CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer. If any dispute arise the Auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to settle it; and to put any disputed lot up again.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds, 2s. 6d.; and so on in proportion.
- III. All lots are sold subject to the right of the seller or his agent to bid, or else to impose a reserve.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and, if required, to pay down 10s. in the pound in part payment of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's expense immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which MESSRS. SOTHEBY & CO. will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If, at the expiration of One Week after the conclusion of the sale the books or other property are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expenses, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which the books were bought. MESSRS. SOTHEBY & CO. will have the option of reselling the lots uncleared either by public or private sale without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VI. All the books are presumed to be perfect, unless otherwise expressed; but if upon collating, any should prove defective, the purchaser will be at liberty to take or reject them, provided they are received back within Fourteen Days after the conclusion of the sale, when the purchase-money will be returned.
- VII. The sale of any book or books is not to be set aside on account of any worm holes, stained or short leaves of text or plates, want of list of plates, or blank leaves or on account of the publication of any subsequent volume, supplement, appendix, or plates. All the manuscripts, autographs, all magazines and reviews, all books in lots, and all tracts in lots or volumes, will be sold with all faults, imperfections and errors of description. The sale of any illustrated book, lot of prints or drawings is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or error of description.
- VIII. No Imperfect Book will be taken back, unless a note accompanies each book, stating its imperfections, with the number of lot and date of the sale at which the same was purchased.
- IX. To prevent inaccuracy in the delivery, and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchases, no lot can on any account be removed during the time of sale
- X. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited; and if any loss is sustained in the reselling of such lots as are not cleared, or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulter at this sale.

Messrs. SOTHEBY & CO are prepared to execute bids, and in addition to advise intending purchasers as far as possible, if requested by them to do so, without making any charge for either service. Lots will be procured as cheaply as is permitted by other bids or reserves, if any.

- 167 FARRAR (Dean) Four A. L. s. 16 pp. 8vo and 4to, April, 1847, etc. (to "Christopher North") explaining "Utilitarianism," criticising Miss Barrett (E. B. Browning):

... her "context affords her no such justification. He is right about Milton and Malebranche but" . . . it is sufficient for my purpose if Malebranche died before Miss B[arrett] wrote her verse about Milton . . . Miss B. undertook to characterize Milton and told us that God was his 'sole vision,' "Malebranche had already said that all human vision was mediated through divine ideas . . . therefore . . . Milton's vision is not sufficiently discriminated from the vision of common men." "If prices rise to a certain point after a rise in wages, there is no rise in wages." . . . "De Quincey's reason then is wrong." Etc.

- PORTER (Jane) A. L. s. to the same, 3 pp. folio, 15 Dec. 1855; and "an eloquent MS. by a Polish Nobleman, Count Valerian Krasinski," etc. (5)

(portion), 2 pp. long 8vo, c. 1824, evidently to his future wife :
 in which he speaks of his illness and love and finishes with riddles.
 "Why is a Farmer like a fowl? Because he likes a full crop. Spell a large bird in two letters—P.N. . . . Why is the wind like fashion—because it regulates the vane. Why does good wine resemble the game of draughts—because an extra draught makes a common man a King. What judges are all of a bigness—the judges of Assize. Why should secret drops of sorrow be shed in the sea—because that's the place for private-tears."

(5) A. L. s. 10 pp. folio and 4to, c. 1825, to "My dear Lotty" (Miss L. Reynolds), Islington, Lower St., Sunday Mong., mentions Jane (his wife):

Relates an occurrence at a party when a whole stack of chimneys tumbled—beating thro' the roof and stamping on the first floor, like the very giant of the castle of Otranto. The explosion might have been compared . . . to the first awful cannon shot at Brussels! . . . And there were well dressed women and brave men. . . I looked thro' the folding doors, and it was like a glimpse of L filled with smoke. . . It was like . . . the rich sweep's jubilee! —or a revel amongst the blacks! . . . I looked for the lady with lobster-eyes. . . and like De Quincey's Ann. . . . I could never find her again. . . . I only . . . showed off amongst these grimed Othellos . . . like the swan amongst the ravens. . . . I asked one a Frenchman how long he had been from Africa, but he mistook my drift and replied he was not from Africa, but the United States." They were asked in next door, "A mad house" and a description thereof: "Of the people at the mad house: their appearance and behaviour." Etc.

(mended in folds and a small piece missing); (6) A. L. s. "Theodore," to his mother, 4 pp. 8vo, c. 1825:

Congratulating her upon becoming a grandmother. "I feel quite an uncle. . . . I once sewed marry golds in my garden and they came up larkspurs. Nevertheless if 'our good Lizzie' desire it, I will strive to label her sweet sunflower." Etc.

(7) A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, Nov. 9, 1825, to his mother-in-law, Mrs. Reynolds:

. . . Lamb called the other day and brought us a delicious hen pheasant which is reckoned the genteest of presents, not excepting épergues." Lamb's sister is no better.

This letter is written upon the concluding portion of an A. L. s. from Hood's wife, Jane.

(8) To T. C. Grattan, Author and Traveller, 2 pp. 8vo, n. d. c. 1836, about his friendship with Charles Lamb:

A friend brought me over Lamb's letters—and I thought you would like to see them. . . . Lamb was an odd man and a shy one. It was necessary to know him to understand him—to understand, to like him, then you loved him. I was very intimate with him when his neighbour. We spent three evenings a week together at one house or the other, and I found him an excellent friend as well as the best of critics. The book was therefore a treat to me. I saw him to his grave. . . . Perhaps you did not know his sister,—a woman to redeem whatever's amiss, if there be anything amiss, in the rest of the sex. Etc.

(9) A. L. 4 pp. 4to (final portion missing), to "My dear Doctor" (? Elliott) from Ostend (1837), speaks of illness at Coblenz and petty robberies during the last ten days, refers to the symptoms of his disease and his sufferings at the time of writing and while in Germany. The attacks have hindered his work, etc. This letter is unpublished but contains material similar in part to that in Hood's letter to Dr. Elliott published in the "Memorials," vol. I, p. 277; L. s. from Clement Scott relative to Tom Hood the younger

- 179 GORDON (General) Auto. Correspondence to Major Mewsome (ten letters), 16 pp. 8vo, Galatz, Southampton, Dublin, etc. 12 Oct. 1868 to 1 Mar. 1881:

... You have been a most kind friend to me in every way, and keep me straight when my headstrong nature would go astray.

If I go to the Crimea I must delay my visit home . . . I do not in the least degree imply that any are condemned to any suffering after death, and I believe most firmly that God will give eternal and happy existence to every being who is or may be on the earth
... Allow this and also consider that there is some inscrutable mystery in what is called sin, and all idea of the injustice of God vanishes. That He is just and upright in all He does, even in the permission of evil, is my Creed . . . You will not accept that man has no free will, which I firmly believe.

I have asked him (Lord Derby) to cut the Gordian knot that binds me to the Khedive, by recalling me, . . . if he doesn't then I must launch an ultimatum to Khedive, and settle the business my self.
My Eastern question is in the same unsatisfactory state as the Turkish one.

Woodhouse has gone out of his mind and Aird is hopelessly paralyzed, all through overwork. His movements uncertain owing to a telegram from Khedive. Etc.

RIVETT (Lt.-Col.) A. L. s. 12 pp. 8vo, Kandalla, 28 Oct. 1840, to Whitby, on Indian affairs :

" . . . I am to be Sheriff of Bombay in 1841 . . . Indian politics would bore you. . . I see the secret springs and pulleys by which the scenery is managed and the puppets put in action. I see too on how very slight a foundation the fabric of our rule has been raised and its present alarming height; it is an 8 storied house of cards." Suggests strengthening the foundations by salutary reforms and amendments to which like all governments, that of India is decidedly opposed. "Ere long the unwieldy mass must totter and once set agoing the ruin will not stop till it is universal." Etc.

- 192 ELIOT (George) Auto. Manuscript of her husband's (G. H. Lewes) "Problems of Life and Mind. Third Series. Problem II," complete, 276 pp. 4to, written throughout in purple ink, with many corrections by Lewes, the manuscript was arranged for publication by "George Eliot," and the following are entirely in her handwriting (1) The Table of Contents of the Problem, 1 p.; (2) The whole of pages 146 and 147; (3) An addition of 12 lines on page 155; (4) An addition on the verso of page 192 (six lines together with a foot-note also corrected by her); (5) Corrections on pp. 219 and 293
- ** "The Problems of Life and Mind" were published in three series, the first issued in 1873 (dated 1874), and the third series, of which this Manuscript forms nearly a half of the second volume, in 1879.
- 193 PAYN (James) AUTO. MANUSCRIPT OF HIS "BLONDEL PARVA," complete, 309 pp. written on one side of the pages of nine "exercise" books preserved in their original covers as purchased by Payn, on the blank side of many of the leaves are the Author's notes and revisions 4to. [1868]
- 194 DARLINGTON (Lord) A. L. s. written on the Programme of the Newmarket Spring Meeting, 1 p. folio, 1816, to F. Hardley, relative to the running of horses—SOUTHEY (R.) A. L. s. 1838, "Sent the 5th vol. of the Dr to Warter"; correspondence about Grimm's "Popular Stories," etc. mounted in a 4to album, half morocco
- 195 SHELLEY (P. B.) Copy of a Letter to his wife, in the latter's handwriting, headed "To M. W. S. at the Baths of Pisa," Casa Ricci (Leghorn), 10 Sept. 1820, 1 p. 4to :
- I am afraid, my dearest, that I shall not be able to be with you as soon as to-morrow evening, though I shall use every exertion. Del Rosso I have not seen, nor shall until the evening. J—— I have, and he is to drink tea with us this evening, and bring the Constitutionel.
- You will have seen the papers, but I doubt that they will not contain the latest and most important news. It is certain, by private letters from merchants, that a serious insurrection has broken out in Paris, and the reports of last night are that an attack made by the populace on the Tuilleries still continued when the last account came away. At Naples the constitutional party have declared to the Austrian minister that if the Emperor should make war upon them, their first action would be to put to death all the members of the royal family. What will become of J——s or the English at Paris? How soon will England itself and perhaps Italy be caught by the sacred fire? And what—to come from the the solar system to a grain of sand—shall we do? Kiss babe for me—I am somewhat better—but my side still vexes me—a little—.

- 196 LOCKHART (J. G.) A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo (To Dr. Maginn, Editor of Fraser's Magazine) :
 . . . My wife Miss Scott and I go to Scotland to-night with Sir Walter and shall bury ourselves with him at Abbotsford. . . I shall be in a living sepulchre and a word from the world very welcome. Etc.
- with A. L. s. of Dr. Maginn (2)
- ** Sir Walter Scott died at Abbotsford on 21 Sept. 1832. He had left London on 7 July. This letter is probably of that date (2)
- 197 WILSON (John) "Christopher North." A. L. s. 1848, "J. W. Ballantine, a poet that does honour to Auld Scotland"; Auto. Account of John Nourse, the bookseller, 1732-42, Lady Flora Hastings, A. A. Watts, A. Opie, etc. (a parcel)
- 198 SHORTHOUSE (J. H.) AUTO. MANUSCRIPT S. OF HIS LAST WORK "BLANCHE, LADY FALAISE," COMPLETE, including the "advertisement," "Introduction" and four drafts of the title-page and covers, 606 pp. 4to, guarded in 3 vol. half red morocco, together with a copy of the FIRST EDITION in original cloth, 1891. (4)
- ** The Manuscript shows considerable variation from the printed text.
- 199 MITFORD (Mary Russell) A. L. s. 4 pp. 12mo, Aug. 1847 : Marianne Skerrett and the Queen talk together about books. The Queen lends her all she gets, which does not seem to be many and Marianne in return shews Her Majesty those which she receives. The last books that the Queen lent her were William Allen (the Quaker's) Life and Lamartine's Histoire des Girondins—a most interesting work, but it is curious to think with what sympathy a Queen, however happy and popular, must read in their vivid details the trials and sufferings and degradations of poor Louis and Marie Antoinette. There must be some fellow feeling in it however secure a throne may seem to be.
- 200 "OUIDA" (Louise de la Ramée) Auto. Poem s. to Jeannie, 2 pp. folio; and an A. L. s. to Baldreke (2)
- 201 MILL (J. S.) A. L. s. 8 pp. 8vo, 10th Oct. 1839, to the Editor of the "British and Foreign Review," suggesting amalgamation with the "London and Westminster Review"
- 202 LANG (Andrew) A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo :
 • If any articles of mine are offered to you from America may I ask you to allow me to correct them before submitting them to English publishers?
 together with A. L. s. of E. W. Benson, E. Phillpotts, Arthur Symons (2), Sir E. H. Shackleton, etc. to Collis (10)

- 203 CORELLI (Marie) A. L. s. 8 pp. 8vo, 10 Jan. 1893, to Fisher :
 . . . I was bred up on the strong meat of one Shakespeare—with him went Byron, Keats and Shelley—also Dante, Petrach, Tasso and Ariosto, to say nothing of Homer and Virgil. I think you would be surprised if you knew what a vast amount of poetry I have read in various languages. Etc.
- 204 LITERARY. Thomas Campbell, Capel Loftt on Sonnets, Milton, Petrarch, etc. R. Chambers to Leigh Hunt, W. Falconer Receipts for subscription to his "Shipwreck," Stothard to Cruikshank, Thomas Clarkson (1790) on his works and witnesses for the Commission on Abolition of Slavery, Mrs. D. M. Craik, etc. mounted in folio album, blue morocco
- 205 HOWITT (William) A. L. s. 5½ pp. 8vo, 16 Dec. 1861, to S. C. Hall, on Spiritualism :
 Mr. Foster one of the most powerful and reliable mediums in America, is most satisfactory in his manifestations, giving proofs that there was no "legerdemain," &c.

The Property of Mrs. B. M. Gurney,

7, Rue Georges Guynemer, Versailles.

- 206 THACKERAY (W. M.) A very fine A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo, Wednesday, May 7 (1856) (on board the "Baltic" with the pilot on board), to Mrs. George Baxter, on returning from his visit to America :
 . . . The process of saying good-bye you know is horrible to me—as I shook kind hands and walked out of hospitable doors at Philadelphia for the last time I felt quite sad and guilty as it were . . . I know I shall feel America sick ere many years are over, & be for paying you all a visit. Luckily 2 days before I went off I happened to go into Tiffanys, and there saw that pretty little sulky tea-pot &c—wch. I thought I could not better in England and ordered to be sent as a 12th of December token to S. S. H.
 . . . I am unwell, have had one of my best attacks on board, haven't been well a single day after the first, and am going to lay myself up either in London or Paris, and see if this crazy old hulk of mine can be patched up and made sea worthy again.
- 207 THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo (Clarendon, N.Y. Dec. 2nd, '52), regretting he cannot accept Miss Harris's invitation to dinner, with photograph

- 208 THACKERAY (W. M.) FOURTEEN A. L. S. ETC. BY AND RELATING TO THACKERAY; SIX PROOFS FOR THACKERAY'S "CORN-HILL TO CAIRO," and portraits, inlaid, green morocco 4to

THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 13, Young Street, Kensington, n. d. to Quin :

Will you come out and see (in her bed laid up with sudden maladies) the mother of your friend W. M. Thackeray. A little way past Slater's the butchers, and the house with the bow windows. Here follows a sketch, by Thackeray, of the bow windows.

Letters mentioning his mother are very rare.

THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 13, Young Street, Kensington, 10 Oct. 1849, to Williams and Norgate, about Tauchnitz's terms for the "Book of Snobs" and "Hoggarty Diamond" :

I have been too ill until now to acknowledge your letter. I shall be happy to agree with Mr. Tauchnitz's terms, and thank you to send me the £20 wh. you have in charge for me. Etc.

THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Providence (Rhode Island, U.S.A.), Dec. 20 (1852), addressed by Thackeray to Wm. Dickinson, Young Men's Library Association, Taunton :

I regret that my engagements will not allow of my lecturing at Taunton at the time named by you.

THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Brighton, 16 Aug. 1857, to Colonel Sykes :

I trouble you once more in behalf of my friend Mr. [Eyre] Crowe the artist, thank you for entertaining his application so kindly. I am sure if you employ him he will do justice to your commisson, etc.

THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. 1 p. 12mo (1864), to Sam. Laurence, the portrait-painter (who painted Thackeray reading a letter, one of Laurence's best-known portraits); about this portrait :

This has just come in and I should recommend your worship to go by the 1 o'clock train on Friday to the Grange. I shall come from Botley early on that or the following morning: and shall now go off to Hants, and have my holiday instead of showing myself in the fog in your painting room. Etc.

** Written on the back of a letter to Thackeray from T. M. Ashburton, of The Grange, Alresford, asking him to bring Laurence.

THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 30, Onslow Square, March 1, to Lady Airlie :

You are very kind to come and see my daughters, and to ask me again to dinner. I wish I could come: but I dine with the Lord Mayor of England on Saturday.

DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Folkestone, 9 Oct. 1855, to Cunningham about the Thackeray Farewell Dinner, held on 11 Oct. on the eve of his departure for America.

On the inside of this letter is the one from Albert Smith referred to by Dickens, it states :

I see an announcement in Galignani of a dinner to Thackeray, at which you are to preside, I should very much like to be there.

** Sixty of Thackeray's friends gave the dinner, previous to his departure on his Second Lecturing Tour in the United States. Dickens took the chair.

COLLINS (Wilkie) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, 17, Hanover Terrace, Regents Park, 8 Oct. 1855, to Peter Cunningham :

It will be out of his power to be present at the dinner to Mr. Thackeray on Thursday next . . .

LYTTON (E. B.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, House of Commons, April 29 (no year), to Thackeray :

Dear Thackeray, I think I shall be able to call upon you at Kensington on Saturday. I shall stay till Monday, will that suit you? I have just read your book "Roundabout"—it is admirable, and—may I say it? truly Thackerayan!

SMITH (Albert) A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, to Sir W. H. Russell :

. . . I wish you could come on to Thackeray's magazine. I have got No. 2 and it wants lightening terribly. It is excellently got up, wonderfully cheap, with well selected names; but (to me) uncomfortably heavy . . . As far as my own amusement is concerned (but I don't mean to set myself up as a person to be thought with, by any means) a couple of numbers of "All the Year Round" is a far more welcome thing. I wish he (Thackeray) would buy two-pennorth of heart somewhere. This of course entre nous. Etc.

TROLLOPE (Frances) A. L. s. 1 p. 12mo (no date), to Thackeray :

We shall be most happy my dear Mr. Thackeray to wait upon you en masse on Monday evening next.

PHILLIPS (Samuel), Journalist, wrote The Times' criticism of 'The Kickleburys on the Rhine,' which deeply offended Thackeray. A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, 11 p.m. 1840, to his wife, witty letter in rhyme

YATES (Edmund), the "Young Grub Street" of "The Virginians." A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 22, Cavendish Square, 12 June, 1875, to "Annie"

THACKERAY (W. M.) Cornhill to Cairo, six proof vignettes on india paper for this work (1846)

The Property of a Lady.

A COLLECTION OF PERSONAL LETTERS ADDRESSED TO
THE LATE MR. JOHN BLACKWOOD, PUBLISHER AND EDITOR OF BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE.

- 222 THACKERAY (W. M.) A SUPERB A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo, Brighton, Dec. 30th (1854), to John Blackwood, MENTIONING CHARLES DICKENS :

But for these confounded attacks of mine I should be able to tell your Reviewer (in confidence) what is going to happen to Miss Newcombe. I have only written 18 numbers of the story instead of 24 wch. I had been in hopes to complete at this time.

Of course I don't agree in all respects with the Reviewer—in placing the men for instance I should I think put Dickens first—as undoubtedly the greatest genius of the three . . . The Newcomes do very well in spite of the war; and as I know the last 6 numbers of the story are going to be the most interesting; I hope the best for Author and Publisher. Then, please God I can get well I shall take another lecturing tour to the States. . . .

- 223 DICKENS (Charles) A VERY FINE A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, Waterloo Hotel, Edinburgh, Friday 29th November, 1861, to John Blackwood :

. . . I feel myself in need of perfect quiet and rest this morning, as I have to read twice to-morrow. . . You said last night . . . that you could not come to Copperfield to-morrow evening, but if I can do anything for Mrs. Blackwood or any member of your family, pray let me know. I cannot endure the idea of any one belonging to you coming into the Hall through any other channel than myself.

- 224 DICKENS (C.) A fine A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, Carrick's Hotel, Glasgow, December 9th, 1868 :

It would give me true pleasure to dine with Mrs. Blackwood and yourself, but for my enforced rule of never dining out, however strong the temptation, under these circumstances. The self denial is indispensable to the preservation of my freshness—and my voice . . .

- 225 DE QUINCEY (Thomas) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo. Sund. nr. ½ p. 6, 1845, to John Blackwood :

The disease called Scarcity of paper prevails here at this time, which must account to you for my using your envelope as also one half of your note. . .

As you are in a manner pledged to the public for the Suspiria De Profundis—and as you inquire with some interest about my progress, I am happy to report that I never succeeded so entirely to my own satisfaction. I am a new birth for composition. Two sheets will be in your hands this current week. . . .

- 226 ELIOT (George) An interesting series of five A. L. s. 1867-72, to John Blackwood; writing from Homburg she says:
 The Kur'saal is to me a Hell not only for the gambling but for the light and heat of the gas, and we have seen enough of its monotonous hideousness. There is very little dramatic "stuff" to be picked up by watching or listening. The saddest thing to be witnessed is the play of Mrs. Leigh, Byron's grant niece, who is only 26 years old, and is completely in the grasp of this mean money-raking demon. . . .
- with a collection of nine Letters from G. H. Lewes to Blackwood (14)
- 227 BURTON (Sir Richard F.) A. L. s. 2½ pp. 8vo, 1861, to John Blackwood, speaks of a long trip through America "all the States, Brigham Young and the Mormons, the silver diggings and the gold . . ." with others of J. T. Delane, H. O'Neil, Albert Smith, Sir A. Alison, Count de Montalembert, etc. (9)
- 228 LEVER (Charles) Two fine A. L. s. 12 pp. 8vo, Villa Morelli, 1864-6, to John Blackwood, mentioning "O. Dowd," and with an interesting reference to European politics and speaks of the "crafty rascality of Louis Napoleon" (2)
- 229 READE (Charles) Six A. L. s. Magdalen College, Oxford, n. d. concerning the "emancipation" of women, "At present we exclude them from nearly all the noble ways of getting their bread; yet complain of their frailty, and when a grand walk offers, say they are too frivolous for it" (6)
- 230 TROLLOPE (Anthony) An interesting collection of seven A. L. s. 1863-79, concerning his novel "Nina Balatka" and proofs and make-up of other novels (7)
- 231 BLACKMORE (R. D.) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, 1894—WARREN (Samuel) A. L. s. concerning a contribution to Blackwood's Magazine—AYTOUN (W. E.) (2)—KINGLAKE (A. W.) (5)—CHESNEY (Sir George) Author of "The Battle of Dorking" (2)—OLIPHANT (Mrs.); HUGHES (Tom); JERROLD; and others (24)

CUM CALENDARIO, in Flemish, Die vrouwe getide, ILLUMINATED MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, 147 ll. written in a clear upright gothic hand, with 12 VERY WELL EXECUTED FULL-PAGE MINIATURES IN ARCHED COMPARTMENTS, all these within full borders in gold and colours, large painted initials on burnished gold ground and full borders on 5 other pages, 30 small historiated initials and half borders, a rather later miniature with landscape background painted on the reverse of the miniature preceding Vespers, all in good condition with wide margins, straight grained red morocco gilt, g. e. c. 1800
8vo (185 mm. by 132 mm.) Flemish, 1488
- ** A VERY INTERESTING DATED MANUSCRIPT WITH ILLUMINATIONS IN A VIGOROUS STYLE. In addition to flowers and grotesques of the usual type the borders are full of pictorial incidents, boys dancing to a bagpipe, the legend of Herod and the miraculously ripened corn on the Flight into Egypt, Hunting scenes, Dance of Death, diceing, etc. On the margin of the miniature facing the first page of text the illuminator has written the date 1488 and the word Spic<sup>r</sup>. This word, the initials A. M. and a device occur on several other borders.

[See FRONTISPICE.]

- 295 HORAE B. V. M. CUM CALENDARIO, in Flemish, Onser vrouwen getide, ILLUMINATED MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, 131 ll. written in a clear upright gothic hand, with 15 WELL-EXECUTED FULL-PAGE MINIATURES in arched compartments surrounded by borders, full illuminated borders to 18 other pages, 36 half borders or panels, large historiated initials and portraits of saints, modern blue velvet binding with gilt filigree clasp

8vo (184 mm. by 127 mm.). Flemish, XV CENT.

- ** Most of the full borders show the characteristics of the Ghent-Bruges school, naturalistic birds, flowers and insects in relief on a liquid gold background, but the decoration is various and some borders are more archaic in treatment with leafy sprays and arabesques.

[See ILLUSTRATION.]

- 296 INDULGENCE OF POPE SIXTUS IV, PRINTED FROM A WOOD BLOCK, granting privileges to those contributing to the Crusade, cut in gothic characters, Forma Confessionalis, 13 lines, Forma absolutionis 8 lines, one margin defective affecting two words of text, some wormholes, discoloured from having been used in a binding

(185mm. by 283 mm.). [? Munich], 1482

- ** Block printed Indulgences are of the greatest rarity. The name of the Subcommissary granting the Indulgence, woodcut like the rest of the text, is Petrus Gardianus, praedicator conventus Monacensis. Cf. Copinger II, 5540 and lot 297.

402 HORAE B. V. M. SECUNDUM USUM SARUM, ILLUMINATED MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, 152 ll. 21 lines to a page, written in a clear upright gothic hand in red and black, 25 LARGE MINIATURES IN GOLD AND COLOURS WITHIN FULL BORDERS, large initials and full borders to all the opposite pages, historiated initials and half borders to ten other pages; in an elaborate pierced silver binding (GERMAN, EARLY XVIII CENT.) with the arms of Raitz von Frentz on the top cover and of Bissing von Nippenburg on the lower; in perfectly clean and fresh condition throughout with wide margins

8vo (200 mm. by 137 mm.) FLEMISH, XV CENT.

** A LAVISHLY ILLUMINATED SARUM HORAE IN A TRULY EXTRAORDINARY STATE OF PRESERVATION. Its remarkable freshness may be attributed to the fact that this Horae, of Sarum use but written and illuminated in Flanders, has remained on the Continent till within the last few years and has thus in all probability never been used for devotional purposes.

The twenty-five miniatures are naïve in design but brilliantly coloured and extremely effective. Among specially English subjects are included St. George and the Dragon, the murder of St. Thomas of Canterbury [see ILLUSTRATION], St. Christopher, and the Image of Pity. There is also a set of smaller miniatures of unusual character accompanying the prayers to the Wounds of Christ and to the Head Crowned with Thorns.

DR. CHARLETT, MASTER OF UNIVERSITY COLLEGE, OXFORD, (quoted in Braybrooke's edition of Pepys's Diary, IV, 263).

28 Apr. 1699

I hear [Mr. Pepys] has printed some letters lately about the abuses of Christ's Hospital; they are only privately handed about. A gentleman that has a very great respect for Mr. P. saw one of them in one of the Aldermen's hands, but wishes there had been some angry expressions left out, which he fears the Papists and other enemies of the Church of England will make ill use of.

The letters are not printed in chronological order, which makes the sequence of events hard to follow on a first reading. The exact contents of each paper are shown in the bibliographical particulars given below, but the following is a list of the documents in order of date:

- 17 Dec. 1697 Pepys to the Governors of Christ's Hospital (III).
- 5 Apr. 1698 Pepys to the Lord Mayor (II).
- 11 July, 1698 Pepys to the Lord Mayor and Aldermen (I).
- [See ILLUSTRATION].
- 12 July, 1698 Pepys to the Lord Mayor and Aldermen (I).
- 25 Oct. 1698 Pepys to the Lord Mayor (II).
- 26 Oct. 1698 Pepys to the Committee of Christ's Hospital appointed to consider his Report on the state thereof (II).
- 8 Nov. 1698 Pepys to the Lord Mayor (II).
- 21 Nov. 1698 Pepys to the Governors (III).
- 21 Nov. 1698 Order of the Court of Governors (III).
- 24 Nov. 1698 Summons to a Court of the Governors (III).
- 25 Nov. 1698 Pepys to the Governors (III).
- 6 Dec. 1698 Pepys to the Lord Mayor and Aldermen (III).
- 25 Jan. 1699 Pepys to the Governors (IV).
- 7 Mar. 1699 Pepys to the Lord Mayor and Aldermen (V).
- 30 Mar. 1699 Pepys to the Governors (VI).

From the first of these letters it appears that Pepys had been commissioned to prepare a Report on the state of Christ's Hospital, and that in September, 1697 he notified the Governors that the Report was ready for presentation; but they (having wind apparently of its contents) were unwilling to receive it and Pepys sent it on April 5, 1698, to the Lord Mayor. This Report, though prepared in 1697, was dated 23 March, 1698.

In July and October, he drew the attention of Sir Humphrey Edwin, the Lord Mayor, to the matter, and on November 8 wrote to his successor in office, Sir Francis Child. The latter referred the matter to the Governors of the Hospital, but no effective action was taken, and Pepys brought the matter before the Lord Mayor again on 7 March, 1699. As a result of this letter he was asked to accept the Treasurership of the Hospital, but on March 30th in the final letter here printed, he gives four reasons for refusing, the first of which was that he was not a Freeman of the City. Further attempts were probably made to persuade him, for in the records of the Court of Aldermen for 27 April, 1699, appears the entry : “In acknowledgment of the great zeal and concern for the interest of Christ’s Hospital which Samuel Pepys Esquire hath manifested upon all occasions, and in hopes of his continuing the same regard and inclinations for its preservation and advancement for the future, doth present him with the Freedom of the City” [Antiquary, viii, 233 (Dec. 1883)]; and we know that he was still active in his Governorship as late as October, 1699, when he wrote to John Jackson :

“Nephew,—’Tis very hard to tell you the effectes of the discomposures I have for some time been daly exersiesed with from the vilinous methods of oure people of Christ-hospitall” [Private Correspondence, i, 207].

His efforts to procure reform seem finally to have failed, for in August, 1700, he wrote to Mrs. Herbert, who had asked for his interest in procuring a nomination to the Hospital :

“Madam,—’Tis very long since the ill state and worse government of Christ’s Hospital has made me a stranger to it and its affairs” [Private Correspondence, ii, 33].

The charges contained in his Report seem to have been directed mainly against financial mismanagement, but he complains also of the moral state of the Hospital, particularly in his letter of 25 January, 1699, where he speaks of :

“the Riot committed by their lewd Visiters in the Girls Ward, but on Sunday last, I say, the Girls Ward; where (as blameable as I take the whole of our present Discipline to be) nothing appears more abandon’d, that that Order and Modesty which till now, has ever been held Sacred in that Place” and again :

“the Infamy laid (but few Evenings before) at your own Door, by a Coach conducted by the Mob, charg’d with two of your Mathematical Boys, distinguish’d by the Badge of their Royal Founder, taken up at Billins-gate, brought thro’ the City, delivered to you (as before) Dead-Drunk, and by their Fellows discharg’d

(insensible) into their ward . . . Him of these Two, who being now Head of the School, and Leader in this Fact, is One, who after having enjoy'd for near nine years together, the Benefit of this House's Charity, and spent twice the time originally establish'd for his stay in that school; was but lately rejected at the Trinity-House, as not yet qualify'd for the End of his so chargeable Education”

That very few copies of these Papers were circulated we learn from an offer in the letter of 25 October, 1698, where Pepys says that he will :

“stand ready with a Reward of Five Pounds to whoever shall shew me any one of my Printed Copies, other than what were strictly deliver'd by Mr. Town-Clerk to Your Self, the Aldermen, and the Assistants of that Court [i.e., the Governors of Christ's Hospital]; and those severally endors'd by a Hand of my own, with the Name of each Person intitled to the same.”

It is, therefore, not surprising that no other set seems to have escaped destruction, as the contents must have been very unpalatable to the recipients.

Tork-Buildings, July 11. 1698.

My Lord,

Y<sup>e</sup> last to your Lordship is now more than three Months old. In which, led by your Lordships own Invitation, I chose to lodge in your Hand the Execution of a Matter, to which I fully believe your Lordship did then as little design, as I did expect, or indeed the Matter it self could be thought to bear, the unnecessary delay of three Dayes. Such was the Account it brought you of the then wretched State of Christ-hospital; and that under an hourly Declension towards worse.

The esteem I have, My Lord, of the Sincerity of your Intentions, and the Assurances you were pleased at the same time, and by repeated Messages since, to give me thereof, will not permit me to charge this Loss of Time (though greater in it self than the whole Remainder of your Lordships year of Mayoralty, will (I fear) suffice to make amends for) upon ought else, than some unforeseen Difficulties in your attempting that Singly, which would call for the Strength, as it does indeed on the Duties, of More; I mean of the whole Body Corporate of the City, intrusted therewith by the Crown.

Which Body not being (that I know) to be otherwise come-at by me, than through that of the Court of Aldermen; I have determined upon discharging my Duty thereto in this Matter, by a Line or two at its next Meeting: When your Lordship with them, assisted by my forementioned Paper of the 5th. of April, and the Report accompanying it of the 23d. of March, will, I doubt not, be fully enabled both to judge and do what shall then appear reasonable. I am with all Respect,

My L O R D,

Your Lordships most obedient Servant

S. Pepys.

554 DENHAM (Sir Jas. Steuart) Ten A. L. s. 39 pp. 1775-78, to A. Hamilton :

The Americans never can expect to force Great Britain to comply with all their demands. . . Our Ministers never can go wrong while they preserve coolness, and avoid considering this State as being affronted by the insolence of an American mob. Suggests cutting off trade with America. The exports do not amount to more than £2,797,000, of which to N. England no more than £407,000. Where would be the harm if we should do nothing at all by way of compulsion; but leave matters on the footing the Americans have put them? May we not break their Militia and treat them as in rebellion, if they assemble under arms. . . . This last is a part I should never adopt, because Americans, in their Congresses have kept up a show of peaceable measures. Suppose Gage had chosen the most favourable occasion to employ troops against The Rebellious Inhabitants of Boston and ordered to fire upon those who were burning the straw and barracks for the troops; no fault could have been found. The troops were there to overawe, not to act. Force never will persuade, except from fear; and had it been in the town of Boston, all America might have taken arms instead of making fruitless resolutions which never can be put in practice.

Nov. 6th 1775. The judicial and executive powers being now in the hands of the mob, they will abuse it and the higher classes will blame their misfortunes to the body of men sitting at Philadelphia.

12th Feb. 1776. . . . It is hardly possible by any force we can send against the colonies, to overcome the general Spirit of the people. . . . Force is now resolved upon. . . . The money, however, will enrich those in America who furnish provisions and service for the army and will prove of most powerful assistance to them in carrying on the War. This may be prevented by fighting as in an enemy's country and paying for nothing. We have seen ten thousand men at Boston who have not been able to penetrate one mile into the Continent of N. America, how far will forty thousand penetrate? Small parties sent to scour the country will be cut off. No honour or glory can be gained in such a war. Making prisoners of the grand delinquents implies (if not taken in arms) a tryal for High Treason. I confess I cannot see how American Government can be settled by arms. Speaks of American paper money issued by Congress and its consequences. The greatest danger is lest it be issued to those who owe money to Great Britain. . . . When the bubbles shall burst, it will be what the Mississippi and South Seas were, those who pay their debts will be enriched, those who are paid will be ruined.

17th March 1776. Thinks matters are clearing up. The size of the force sent will probably make the Americans go home and appear good subjects who have been forced by nobody knows whom, to rebel. Then what is the Army to do? To build forts of proper dimensions in the proper places and in every province to contain sufficient troops to overawe the people. Not to disarm the people or take prisoners in any accidental fight. Appoint one military governor-general over the forces with no civil power. Would appoint three sets of judges. Establish custom houses. "The laws of England shall be laws of America."

28th October 1776. . . . I long very much to hear the sequel of what happened at Long Island on the 27 of August. When I consider the successful caution of our General in his late enterprise I doubt concerning the plan which is laid down for him in the attack of (New) York by Kings Bridge fortifications. This is a perilous landing place. I imagine he will land his forces without Hell-gate. But is it possible to suppose that Washington will remain in the town with 40,000 men until he sees himself shut up by General Howe from the land side, while he is environed with a great force on all hands by water. You know that my opinion from the beginning was to send no troops. Had there been no troops to cut their throats, they would have throat-cutting among themselves and a powerful squadron or fleet of armed ships, frigates, etc., would have cut off their trade, by which this nation must have lost considerably. Besides no sooner will our army get into the country of America, than showers of guineas will enrich them. Nothing more profitable for a rich country than a well supported rebellion against a rich sovereign.

- 641 BANKS (Sir J.) AUTO. MS. "DISCOVERY, 1791-1795," 3 pp. folio

Account of trouble on board Captain Vancouver's ship the "Discovery." Ld. C. was on all occasions the spokesman of the Mids, hence the charge of Mutiny among them, the case was this a Mr. Robinson educated at Christ's Hospital and recommended by Mr. Voles had been received on board but was sent among the people and treated by V— and by his Bowswain's mates by his order quite as a servant-lad in course of time the midshipman who had charge of the timekeeper owing to the treatment he did not approve, relinquished the charge, on this Robinson who was very capable was called to it and V— ordered him upon the Quarter Deck and directed that he should mess with the Midshipmen—which both the messes refused and gave their Reasons openly as ordered by V— upon the Quarter Deck —on this refusal V— ordered the Midshipmen's birth to be pulled down by which they were exposed to the men and had no harbor between decks to separate them. Lord C., accused of sleeping on watch, was put in irons in the common "bilboes" and discharged some days after without examination. Ld. C. was punished four times and accused of embezzling the King's stores, "When in New Zealand an iron hoop had been bent . . . to serve the purpose of a grid iron . . . and put into the Midshipmen's quarters . . . when at Otaheite the young man disposed of it to the Natives." A Mr. Stuart, son of Lord Bute, who was on board, quarrelled with the Captain and drew a razor from his pocket threatening to cut his throat if flogged. Menzies saved Vancouver's life, and when the surgeon went mad at the Cape, many of the company were taken very ill and one died. Vancouver then desired Menzies to take charge of the Mates, and all hands recovered. At Nootka the surgeon was invalidated, and Vancouver requested Menzies to take charge as Surgeon, which he at first refused, but after consented. In this capacity Menzies protested against the inhumanity of smoking between decks while men were lying there with the fevers, etc.

- ** The young Lord was Thos. Pitt, second Baron Camelford, whom Vancouver flogged and put in irons and finally put ashore.

George Vancouver sailed for Nootka Sound on 1 April, 1791, touching at the Cape, surveying the south-west coast of Australia. Passing to New Zealand he examined Dusky Bay, and where Cook had marked the chart "Nobody knows what." Vancouver substituted a correct coast line and the name "Somebody knows what." On this voyage Vancouver discovered the Gulf of Georgia, and circumnavigated Vancouver Island.

- 645 SHELLEY (Percy Bysshe) A VERY REMARKABLE A. L. S.
4 pp. 8vo, London, Jan. 11, 1816, MENTIONING "QUEEN
MAB":

. . . I saw Longdill early this morning and have spent the whole day at his Chambers . . . The only manner in which I could get at the children in the common course of law, is by Habeas Corpus, and that supposes a delay of some weeks . . . This process is the most insidiously malignant that can be conceived. They have plied a bill to say that I published Queen Mab, that I avow myself to be an atheist and a republican, with some other imputations of an infamous nature.

If I admit myself or if Chancery decides that I ought not to have the children because I am an infidel; then the W's will make that decision a basis for a criminal information or common libel attack.

But there is hopes by vigorous and watchful resistance that the whole of this detestable conspiracy will be overthrown. Do not be under any apprehension about the children, they are quite safe, quite well, and quite happy—Believe me ever

The Biology of the Copepod Family Cyclopidae

By JAMES H. MURKIN, JR.

ABSTRACT. A detailed study of the Cyclopidae of the Atlantic coast of North America from the Gulf of St. Lawrence to the Gulf of California is presented.

The family Cyclopidae is the largest of the copepod families, containing over 1,000 species. It is divided into two subfamilies, the Cyclopinae and the Eucyclopinae. The Cyclopinae includes the cyclopids, which are the most numerous and varied group of cyclopids, and the eucyclopids, which are the least numerous and varied group. The Cyclopinae is further divided into three subgroups: the cyclopids, the eucyclopids, and the cyclopoides. The cyclopids are the most numerous and varied group of cyclopids, and the eucyclopids are the least numerous and varied group. The cyclopoides are the least numerous and varied group of cyclopids.

THE CYCLOPIDIENAE AND CYCLOPODIAE. The Cyclopidieneae and Cyclopodiæ are the two subfamilies of the Cyclopidae. The Cyclopidieneae are the more numerous and varied group, while the Cyclopodiæ are the less numerous and varied group.
